

A romantic wedding scene at dusk. A bride in a long, flowing white gown and a groom in a black tuxedo with a bow tie are walking hand-in-hand on a wooden boardwalk. They are positioned in the lower center of the frame. In the background, a large, ornate white Victorian-style house with multiple stories, decorative railings, and a prominent chimney stands under a soft, twilight sky. A large, leafy tree is on the left side of the house. To the right of the couple, a string of warm-toned outdoor lights is strung across the grass. The overall mood is serene and elegant.

AN UNIQUE VENUE IN THE MIDST OF THE VOER REGION

*The estate serves as the perfect backdrop for a ceremony or reception.
The possibilities are endless, and the beauty infinite.*

Love blossoms under the open sky, and this enchanting outdoor wedding reception setting is a testament to the magic that unfolds when hearts unite. Nestled amidst nature's embrace, this scene radiates romance and celebration, as the golden glow of sunset casts its warm hues upon a gathering of love.

With nature as witness and joy in the air, this snapshot captures the beginning of a lifelong journey filled with laughter, promises, and the beauty of two souls intertwining. Here's to a day of love, laughter, and the start of an everlasting adventure together. Cheers to the newlyweds and the timeless beauty of love in bloom!

The background image is a misty, golden-hour landscape. In the foreground, several sheep are grazing in a grassy field. The background is hazy with a warm, orange glow from the low sun, and a few bare trees are visible in the distance.

ALTENBROEK ESTATE - A RICH HISTORY

The earliest history of Landgoed Altenbroek is - as is the case with many castles and manors - unknown. The name first appears on our radar around the year 1300. The original owner and reason for building the estate? Untraceable.

However, we do know that the estate changed hands quite regularly over the centuries. Land was bought, and sold again and many renovations took place. For example, around 1775, the construction of the north wing in brick was started. This bergerie initially served as a sheepfold. Clues about this small piece of history can still be found on the facade. The beautiful scenery - which you're also enjoying at the moment - frequently served as the backdrop for various noble weddings.

But history also has its tragedies. In 1789, the French Revolution began. The fear of ending up under the guillotine was ever present. Also for Léonard Schiervel, the then owner of the estate. When he died - at the age of 76 - he left behind two sons, Louis and Henri.

While Louis worked on an impressive career - he refused his appointment as first Governor of Belgian Limburg by the Provisional Government, but quickly climbed the social ladder - Henri returned to Altenbroek Estate after the death of his father to take over the estate.

Henri's grandchild - Albert - was destined to continue the dynasty as the next baron De Schiervel. A true Burgundian. But unfortunately not a sensible one. He got into a fight with another aristocrat. In a duel - of only minutes - Albert was hit in the chest and died.

Albert was the last male tribe bearer of the Schiervel family. The property rights were transferred to his sister. The estate remained in the family until 1994, after which it was sold to Dutch businessman Wim Claessen.

In 2009, this businessman transformed the estate to a hotel- restaurant with 27 rooms. But things did not go as planned. When renovating the castle, Wim broke several rules. He managed to survive until the curtain fell in 2013, but barely.

One of the three wells - the Sint Lambertus well - around the estate, was also given a new purpose. The water from this spring is bottled, for you to enjoy during your stay.

In addition to the unique outdoor areas the estate has several salons that have a unique character.

GARDEN GET-TOGETHER

THE LIBRARY: UNIQUE DETAILS ALL AROUND

PHOTOGRAPHY BY AMANDA DORST

The estate's library conveys one of the most unique and authentic details of the entire property. It serves as a lounge by day but can also be a funtional space for your reception.

GENUINE SUITES

Our estate boasts 57 exquisitely appointed rooms, each designed to offer an unique blend of elegance and sophistication. Every space is a testament to meticulous attention to detail.

For those desiring a home away from home, our estate goes beyond traditional accommodations. Nestled amidst the lush surroundings are two vacation homes, providing a retreat within a retreat. These private sanctuaries offer a perfect balance of seclusion and accessibility, allowing guests to immerse themselves in the serenity of the estate while enjoying the comforts of a thoughtfully designed residence.

From the understated charm of our rooms to the lavish expanses of our suites and vacation home, each enclave tells a story of luxury and sophistication. As you traverse through the corridors, anticipate not just a stay but an experience. Every room is a chapter waiting to unfold in the grand narrative of your sojourn.

The rooms are equipped with authentic wooden floors and offer picturesque views, with nearly every window framing either the charming courtyard or the lush beauty of the garden.
